

User Story 6

As a researcher in the field of DH, I develop software solutions for purposes of architectural history: a tool to reconstruct and analyse monuments that are no longer in existence or only partially preserved. Data as well as code are to be made available for subsequent use of the data and for further development. I need reference framework to be able to check whether my technical solutions mirror the specifics of the interrelating connection between digital and analogue cultural heritage.